

SCARY OR STUNNING?

A Makeup Artist Can Help You Look Your Best This Holiday Season!

It's the time of year for Halloween parties, family get-togethers, year-end company parties and New Year's Eve, which are all just around the corner. While these times can be fun-filled, they can also be stressful for many. Why not consult with a makeup artist to help you shine during any occasion that comes up during this holiday season?

For many, Halloween is the holiday that gets the season started. Many people go all out with decorations and costumes. To complete your costume, a makeup artist can create a very realistic and detailed look that brings out the character of your attire. Whether it is a zombie or grim reaper, or any figure of your choice that requires a scary, gory, or aged look, a makeup artist can create the appearance you are striving for.

When it comes to other holiday events where you want to shine and look your absolute best, especially for pictures, turning to an experienced makeup artist can bring out your natural beauty with a healthy glow – something that represents the youth and vitality that women of all ages look to achieve. A professional can enhance one's best features, troubleshoot, and create an illusion to hide any imperfections or flaws without looking overly done.

No matter what the occasion this holiday season, a professional makeup artist can create the look you are trying to accomplish. Makeup artist Doris Lew at Making Up can help you achieve your makeup and hair needs and make you feel pampered. You can call her at 619-990-6063 or email her at doris@dorislew.com.
