To whom it may concern,

As part of the Studio IOF production team, if a project requires make-up and hair styling, Doris Lew is always my first call to lend her expertise. She is a diligent, hard working professional and has a reputation with producers, directors and talent alike as one of the finest in the business. I won't work with anyone else unless she is absolutely not available.

Also, Doris is a team player. Most importantly, she is reliable, extremely adaptable and always maintains a very positive attitude on the set. I can depend on her to deliver consistent, exceptional results even under the toughest conditions.

Doris is a perfectionist. It shows in every aspect of her work. Her natural artistic ability combined with years of experience in make-up, hair and wardrobe make her a valuable addition to any production team. I highly recommend her to any production company looking for the best in make-up and hair.

Sincerely,

David Zeigler
